ERGONOMICS

Why ergonomics is so important.

Sitting on a office chair, takes a large part of our working day. It affects our health and our individual fitness. Using an incorrect posture or a seating device not fitting our specific morphology, can damage our back, vertebrae, and muscles. That's why when we develop a chair ergonomics is always at the first place.

DESIGN

A product must not only be functionally perfect, another important aspect when we develop new chair is the design. All the new items of the Antares collection were developed by designers with a proved experience in this sector.

LOCAL MANUFACTURE

The quality you can trust

The quality and tradition of the Czech manufacture is well known all around Europe. We pay a carefull attention of every single detail of our producs. A highly specialised staff control each step of the production cycle to obtain the best result in terms of quality and value.
